Summary of Responses:

The faculty members and teaching-learning process of Khalsa College for Women were assessed on various parameters involved in Students' Satisfaction Survey. The summary of students' responses communicated that maximum number of students were extremely satisfied with teachers' proficiency in their subject, teaching and mentoring process and also with the internal evaluation process adopted by the college. A notable number of students, i.e. about 98%, appreciated the multiple learning and growth opportunities provided to the students by the institute. However, the students wanted the institute to organise frequent career counselling sessions, better placement and research opportunities for the students
